Student accommodation is more than providing students with a place to live. For accommodation providers, it involves managing properties, tenants, documentation, safety, compliance requirements and communication, while ensuring that students have a safe and supportive living environment. As the student accommodation sector continues to evolve, accommodation providers need more than visibility. They need access to practical digital tools, relevant information and support that can help simplify the management of their properties.

This is where StudentJunxion comes in.

A Student-Focused Platform Built Around the Accommodation Ecosystem

StudentJunxion is a hybrid student-focused platform designed to bring essential student services together in one place, from education and accommodation to transport, opportunities, student services and everyday support. For accommodation providers, this creates an opportunity to connect with students and parents while accessing tools and support specifically designed around the student accommodation environment.

The objective is not simply to advertise accommodation. It is to create a connected ecosystem where students, parents, accommodation providers, institutions and service providers can interact through one platform.

Increase Your Accommodation's Visibility

One of the challenges accommodation providers face is reaching students and parents who are actively searching for suitable accommodation. Through StudentJunxion, accommodation providers can gain greater digital visibility among a student-focused audience. Being present on a platform designed specifically around student needs can help accommodation providers showcase their properties to prospective tenants and their parents while building a stronger digital presence.

Simplify Property and Tenant Management

Managing student accommodation can involve keeping track of properties, tenants and important accommodation-related information. StudentJunxion aims to provide accommodation providers with user-friendly digital management tools that can assist with centralising property and tenant information. The ability to access relevant information digitally can also make it easier for providers to monitor and manage aspects of their accommodation remotely.

Keep Important Compliance Documents Organised

Compliance documentation is an important part of managing student accommodation. StudentJunxion's accommodation platform is designed to assist providers with the digital storage and management of important compliance documentation. Providers can have easier access to relevant documents, download them when required and receive reminders relating to upcoming document expiries or renewals. This can help reduce the risk of important documentation being overlooked.

Stay Informed About Student Accommodation Requirements

Student accommodation providers operate within an environment where compliance requirements and industry developments matter. StudentJunxion aims to provide accommodation providers with information and updates relating to relevant developments, including information concerning DHET minimum norms and standards. Providers can also gain access to accommodation-related guidance and support aimed at helping them prepare for accreditation and relevant inspection requirements. Where applicable, accommodation providers can access an accommodation advisor who can assist with accreditation of readiness, as well as on-site inspection advisory support.

Add an Additional Layer of Student Safety Support

Student safety is an important consideration for students, parents and accommodation providers. StudentJunxion incorporates a 24/7 SOS/Panic Button service intended to provide participating student tenants with an additional safety support mechanism. The service is connected to a network of more than 100 Community Policing Forums (CPFs), with an average reported response time of approximately five minutes, subject to location, circumstances and availability.

This service is intended to provide an additional layer of support alongside the existing safety measures implemented by accommodation providers.

Building a More Connected Student Accommodation Ecosystem

The future of student accommodation is not only about finding a room close to campus. Students and parents increasingly need access to reliable information, services, transport, academic support, opportunities and safety resources, while accommodation providers need effective ways to reach their target market and manage their operations. StudentJunxion aims to bring these different needs together through one connected platform.

By becoming part of the StudentJunxion Accommodation Partner Network, accommodation providers can position their properties within a broader student ecosystem while gaining access to digital tools and accommodation-focused support.

Is Your Accommodation Ready to Become Part of the StudentJunxion Network?

Whether you operate a student residence, private accommodation or other student-focused housing, StudentJunxion provides an opportunity to connect your accommodation with a platform built around the needs of the student community. If you are interested in increasing your accommodation visibility, exploring digital property management tools or learning more about accommodation compliance and accreditation readiness, we would like to hear from you. Get in touch with StudentJunxion to learn more about becoming an Accommodation Platform Partner.
